ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, July 13—A grinding of tanks and American armor and infantry pushed along over the edge of German defenses today to within a mile and a half of St. Lo, the most important town midway between the base of the Cherbourg peninsula.Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley's army drove on the city from the northwest and east,
and were on the point of passing it from the east.The Paris radio said 32 divisions were concentrated in the St. Lo sector, and a Nazi correspondent reported that the allied artillery barrage
was the heaviest yet encountered.Another similar American drive across the Cherbourg peninsula was reported today, as the army moved toward the town of Le Mans, 21 miles northwest of St.
Lo, and reached to within two miles of that town.Four towns and several square miles of territory were overrun by the Americans, making their biggest territorial gains in several days.The British second army, meanwhile, retained the much fought-over town of Malot, four miles southwest of Caen at the eastern end of the battlefield in the bottle neck formed by the Orne and Odon rivers.Barrage Precedes Attack
The American attack on St. Lo again was preceded by a heavy artillery barrage upon German positions and hedgerow hiding places.Advance formations of tanks
and infantry swept through La Bulay, 24 miles east of St. Lo and then pushed three-quarters of a mile beyond—southward across the St. Lo-Bayeux road and drawing up a semi-circle about the town of 15,000.To the northwest they turned back a savage counter-attack and took the no-man's-land village of La Desert in the Vire valley.
A front line dispatch quoted
a German source as saying the Germans were trying to make a stand in the area.This report coincided with a German announcement that the new commander in the west, General Guenther von Kluge had inspected the channel battle area, possibly with a view to applying some of the delaying tactics used in Russia. He bears the reputation as Germany's foremost defensive strategist.St. Lo, fortified by Charlemagne, has been involved in great struggles many times, pillaged by Normans, taken and retaken by the British in the Middle Ages, and struggled in wars between the Catholics and Protestants.

IN NEW GUINEA45,000 Troops Attempt To Break Out of U. S. and Australian Trap.By The Associated Press
Another isolated Japanese army, twice as large as the 20-000-man force wiped out on Saipan last week, today built up an all-out offensive to break free of the allied death-trap on New Guinea.The preliminaries started Monday with an attack against veteran American troops 21 miles southeast of Aitape, one of the jaws of the trap which has squeezed the enemy into the Wa-wak area. A second attack followed Tuesday and Gen. Douglas MacArthur reported skirmishes were continuing. The other jaw is an Australian force pushing up from the south.A heavy force gathered for the break-through attempt evidently was hoping to clear an escape path for 45,000 troops westward
to Dutch New Guinea. This force, the remainder of 60,000 men who made up the Japanese 18th army,
had to break out or perish.This resurgence of southwest Pacific land action came amidst announcement of record casualty figures growing out of the Saipan victory. Adm. Chester W. Nimitz disclosed 2,359 U. S. troops were killed, 11,481 wounded and 1,213
missing in the 23-day battle which won this strategic island for the allies.The Japanese suffered more heavily. They lost 11,948 known dead and perhaps as many as 19,000. More than 1,000 prisoners
—a record for a single action in the Pacific.

1,000 Big U. S. Bombers Strike
Munich Third Successive DaySaarbrücken in Western Germany Also Hit; More Planes Join
Attack from Italy.By The Associated Press
LONDON, July 13—A thousand Flying Fortresses and Liberators bombed Munich for the third successive day today and also struck at Saarbrücken in western Germany.Munich is a transportation center for railways and roads between Germany, Italy and France and the attack fitted into the rapidly snowballing campaign threatening to cripple German transport over all western Europe, the same as it now is disrupted in the northwest corner.The Munich area now has received about 9,000 tons of American bombs in three days, making it probably the most intensively bombed region on earth.Berlin also said a fleet was striking from Italy, as on the last two days.Strike Without Loss
A large fleet of RAF heavy bombers without loss before down-struck two of the most important rail centers in central France.
Other British bombers from Italy battered the Brescia rail yards in northern Italy by night. The Finns said Russian air forces joined the general melee by bombing their port of Kotka east of Helsinki.Saarbrücken is a major steel and coal center nearly athwart the western German border on a main trunk line to Paris, 200 miles due west. Mosquitoes during the night had stung targets in the nearby Ruhr.Upward of 500 RAF Lancasters and Halifaxes participated in the overnight operations, during which railway yards at Tours and Coulmout-Chalendy were the main targets.Tours is a vital bottleneck in the German transportation network some 130 miles behind the Normandy-battlefront, while Culmout-Chalendy—150 miles southeast of Paris and half way to the German frontier—is a key point through which the Germans have been funneling supplies and reinforcements into France.Hit Rebel Bases
While the British night raiders were battering these targets, other formations of RAF heavy bombers made a series of violent assaults upon German flying bomb installations in northern France.Mosquitoes struck simultaneously at industrial objectives in the Ruhr valley and other British aircraft laid mines in enemy waters.
Nine German planes were shot down—five in a five-minute battle over Lemans involving 12 thunderbolts and 10 Focke-Wulfs. Only one allied plane was reported missing.In the blows yesterday against southern France from Italian bases, American Liberators bombed railroad targets in the Rhone
valley and on the Riviera.Escorting Mustangs shot down 14 enemy fighters. MAAF losses totalled 20 planes.COUNTY HAS LEAD IN

U. S. ATTENTIONEnemy Air Force Appears To

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEAD-QUARTERS, PEARL HARBOR,
July 13—Sustained American air
and naval blows focused attention today on Guam, southwest of Saipan which now is a U. S.
operational base, carved out of Japan's inner defenses at a record cost of 15,053 casualties.Already the enemy air force at Guam and on intervening Rota appears to have been knocked out by the same type of pounding loosed on Saipan prior to its invasion June 14. Guam has been bombed daily for nearly a week and intermittently shelled by warships.On Saipan, concealing caves and ravines were probed for additions which were expected to swell both the total of nearly 12-000 Japanese dead counted so far and more than 10,000 captives. A Marine regiment killed more than 700 Nips Monday in one mopping-up action.Casualty Figures Figures for both sides established new records for fierce fighting among the Pacific's islands.1. The 15,053 American casualties included 2,359 killed, 11,481
wounded and 1,213 missing.
2. The Japanese dead—11,948
already buried by Yank troops, with many more to be accounted for. One heavily strafed ravine alone is believed to hold 1,000 Jap bodies.3. The Japanese captives—more than 1,000 soldier prisoners of war; more than 9,000 interned civilians.The American casualties were announced in Washington by Navy Secretary Forrestal.Walter S. Delaney, assistant chief of staff for readiness who recently visited the Pacific battle area, said:"This is an example of what we can expect. The going is going to get tougher because we are up against the enemy's inner circle of defenses and up against great land masses."Forrestal supported his assessment of Saipan as a "prize of the first magnitude" by pointing out
Japan expended more than 1-000 planes during the campaign and also supported a naval defeat in efforts to hold it.Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced a 50-ton bombing of comb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

ion, suffered severe laceration of her left cheek just below the eye Monday evening when she was attacked by a German police dog owned by the family. The injury was treated by a Marion physician but the cheek was torn in such a way that stitches could not be taken to close the wound.
The mother said. Anti-tetanus shots were given for prevention of lockjaw.The dog, about a year old, has been owned by the family only about three weeks but had not shown signs of viciousness before Mrs. Holcomb said. She was advised to keep the animal tied 10 days until it is determined if signs of rabies appear. A four-year-old boy, Phillip Sheridan

by a dog Monday morning was listed as "getting along all right

30-Degree Temperature DropFirst Heavy Downpour Since Early June Benefits Ohio Wheat and Corn Crops.General rains yesterday gave relief from drought to Marion and other Ohio communities.An Associated Press dispatch termed the dry spell "the state's worst midsummer drought in half a century."In Marion .45 of an inch of rain fell after an almost complete lack of rain for more than a month. The last heavy rain here drenched parents and graduates attending Harding High school commencement activities June 2.
Several light showers have fallen,
but the amount of moisture was so small that gardens and lawns
received little benefit.

Marion's sweltering population gained respite from the oven-like intensity of the heat when the temperature here took a 30-degree drop from a high of 94 yesterday to a low of 64.Wheat Situation Good With the nation's wheat harvest reported one of the most bountiful ever produced, the outlook in Marion county for threshers seems to be bright. Some farmers in the county who started threshing before yesterday's rain were of the opinion that they would be able to continue by noon today. Since the crop has been so dry they stated that the little additional moisture might prove beneficial.Prospects for early corn now in tassel are excellent, according to Marion county farmers. The rain yesterday may prove just enough to bring the early crop out in good shape, they believe. Late corn which is knee high now received the most benefit from showers as leaves were beginning to curl from lack of water.Most of State Benefited

The opinion of one Marion county resident, who has had some years farming experience was that never in all his life had he seen a rain which was so beneficial to local farms.Weather observers said rain fell throughout Ohio yesterday, but in some sections it amounted to only a trace. Whether the drought was broken was uncertain since there was no prospect of showers today or further general rains.Crop experts previously had said fields were so parched in many sections that two or three days of rain would be needed.
Parched corn fields, victory gardens, pastures and city lawns in most sections received the first heavy rainfall since early June, though light showers had fallen in widely scattered areas during the past few days. Temperatures, too, took a tumble from the high 90's where they had remained in the central Ohio sector to the past 10 days.Heavy showers fell in Cleveland, Akron, Dayton, Columbus, East Liverpool and Cincinnati.
Adams county in southwestern Ohio had about two inches of rain in 24 hours. The rain in the county gave a high percentage of the quota.The former governor, who was the upper Ersa valley some 17

miles inland from Italy's west coast in a flanking move against Livorno, have captured the town of Lajatico in the bitterest fight-

today.The doughboys quickly mopped up all enemy soldiers remaining in the town yesterday, taking 150 to 200 prisoners, and surged on northward. By noon they had closed to a point only 12 miles from the Arno river valley, key to the outer strongpoints of the German "Gothic line" defenses—supposedly the last strong natural barrier left to the enemy short of the Po river line in northern Italy.Simultaneously French troops

carved a path through German defense points and captured San

Marion Postoffice Receipts Hit New High in Last Year

Men in Service Called One of Main Causes of Increase; Some Bits of Local Postal History.

By MARY HERRING

An increase in Marion postal receipts since 1938 reached its peak in the last fiscal year, Homer D. Cole, postmaster, said today. Receipts for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1943, were $233,524.99, an increase of $17,782.96 over the preceding year.

The increase has been due to so many men being in the service, Mr. Cole said, and a special section handling service mail has been created.

The mailman's realization when they go through the mail, that they are now many different people, is one of the things that Mr. Cole says is new. The slow, steady increase in the number of letters is not to be sorted by the "people" without regard to the proper section.

Mr. Cole said that the mailman's realization when they go through the mail, that they are now many different people, is one of the things that Mr. Cole says is new. The slow, steady increase in the number of letters is not to be sorted by the "people" without regard to the proper section.

Various Divisions
After being canceled letters are placed according to their respective sections. Each case has a number of pigeon holes, tagged with the sections of the United States and this later is broken down into states. The service mail is kept entirely separate in a special section. Here the sections are: V-mail, military air, naval air, V-mail, P.O., and then the military and postal.

Mr. Cole hastened to say the cancellation machine record does not include the metered mail, letters which are stamped by banks, and the various Marion concerns. After the sorting, small bundles are ready to be packed for shipping. Racks hold these packages open and each is tagged with the train on which they are to be shipped.

The same type of sorting applies to all mail that goes to the city residents. Here the mailmen do the sorting, placing the letters as they are to be delivered.

On the Depot Run
The mail truck makes 16 complete trips per day between postoffice and depot, working from 4:30 a. m. until midnight.

The Marion postoffice now employs 73 persons, including the postmaster. There are 24 regular clerks, 3 substitutes, 24 city carriers, 4 substitutes, 7 rural carriers, 4 substitutes, 1 special delivery girl, 1 star route carrier, 1 mail messenger and 3 custodians. The employees include an assistant postmaster, superintendent of mails and superintendent of carriers. H. G. Uncapher, the oldest employee in point of service, is now working his 52nd year.

Special attention is still given to the "mike box," the small receptacle that catches all letters which can't be delivered, either because of an incomplete or improper address. Mr. Cole says the mike box has been there since the building was erected in 1910. The mike box differs from the dead letter department since almost all mike letters have a return address. Many looked over by various employees are recognized and delivered to the recipient.

Dead letters crop up on an partment through the years. Starting with the opening of the new structure at the present location on Dec. 24, 1910, each postmaster religiously kept the clipping book to date.

In 1933 Marion underwent an epidemic of "chambers." Items written followed the attempts of postal authorities to stop the chain letters which contained everything from a dime to ten dollars. A dire future was predicted for the one who broke the chain.

Record of each new stamp on sale is shown through these clippings and the most sought after stamp went on sale Nov. 18, 1930. It was a Harding stamp.

Each employee who retired from active duty is recorded in the clipping book, together with a writeup giving his service record and past experiences.

In the winter of 1934, carriers vied with each other in telling stories about the heavy snow drifts and the old timers came out on top by delving way down in their memory sack about worse snow storms.

In December of 1934 Marion entered the limelight when government officials carried a mail robbery investigation here after they learned the robbers had made Marion their hideout the previous summer.

When the new addition was completed in 1937 records of that were also clipped. Through the volume of mail in that year an estimate of the number of families living here was calculated. A close guess at the number of empty houses in Marion was also given that year based on an estimate of letter deliveries.

Business Has Grown

Paralleling growth of the town itself is the growth of the postoffice. Quite a bit of progress is recorded since the time when not quite five letters a day were received in 1928 to the 18,000 letters handled daily now. In the 3-letters-a-day period the local physician carried the mail in his full silk hat and delivered them as he made his rounds to patients, thus dispensing with need for a postman.

SOAP'S IN HIS EYE, NOT THEIRS. This seems a public sort of bath that ambulance driver James A. Robinson of Stamford, Conn., is giving himself in an open-air tub in Burma. But the native kibitzers are enjoying the sight and Robinson doesn't mind as he makes with the soap. (Field Service photo.)

FISH BAIT LURES FOX

ELIZABETHTOWN, Ill., July 12.—John M. Ledbetter, 18, and John M. Thompson, 17, caught three foxes in one day's fishing. The foxes, alive and kicking, had been caught when he snatched at some other fishermen's back baited with crawfish. The boys removed the hook from his mouth and turned him loose.

Century Club Celebration Set for Tonight by Marion K. of C.

EDWARD P. McHUGH JOSEPH DUNN

Local Council Awarded Recognition for 102 Membership Additions: State Grand Knight To Be Honored.

Program and program tonight were initiated at various times throughout the year, either at the annual meeting of Marion meetings here or in other cities in the district, and on Jan. 30, this year, the Century club and year, at a meeting here, one of the members, Joseph Dunn, the largest classes in the history of the club, under whose leadership, was initiated.

The council's service flag bears 65 stars honoring members serving in the armed forces.

To Install Officers

Following the dinner and program the newly-elected officers of the council will be installed by State Deputy McHugh. Guests will include Rev. William O'Donnell, P.H.D., of Cleveland, state chaplain, V. J. Paul of Cuyahoga Falls, state secretary, Rhuey Rhoads of Columbus, state warden, Jean White of Cleveland, state membership chairman, Henry Rohr of Marysville, district deputy, and visiting knights from Kenton, Delaware, Upper Sandusky and other nearby cities.

The Marion council is one of the older councils in the state and was instituted shortly after the turn of the century. In May 1937, the members celebrated the 35th anniversary of the organization. It has always played a prominent part in parish activities and civic affairs of the community. In May 1911 the council absorbed the Catholic Athletic club, a social group made up of young Catholics. One of the largest initiations was held in 1933 when 61 candidates were admitted. The council membership included Monsignor Joseph M. Denning, former pastor of St. Mary church who served as pastor to Morocco under President Harding. Rev. Father William J. Spickerman, pastor of St. Mary, is chaplain of the council. The members also are active in state and district Knights of Columbus activities.

Cards for Service Men

At a meeting of the council Tuesday night final plans for tonight's meeting were made. It also was decided to send decks of playing cards to the members serving with the armed forces.

Plans also were discussed for the annual parish picnic to be sponsored by the council Sunday, Aug. 20 at the Marion county fair-ground.

SQUIRREL STOPS ELECTRIC CURRENT NEAR CALEDONIA

For That Matter, Electric Current Stops Squirrel.

One little squirrel got more than he bargained for Tuesday morning.

Jo Ann Clark, 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Clark of one-half mile south of Caledonia, plugged in the iron yesterday morning but the iron did not heat up. Jo Ann tried the light switch and got no results. After trying several more lights and finding them out of order she called the neighbors, who reported their lights were all right. When Mr. and Mrs. Clark got home from their work in Marion they changed fuses in a vain effort to correct the situation. They called the trouble man at the electric company and he inspected all the wiring in the house. That done he started on the outside wiring. When he got to the transformer on the light pole outdoors he found a small squirrel electrocuted by a live wire in the transformer. The little fellow had been a little too inquisitive for his own good.

ACT TO HALT SPREAD OF POLIO EPIDEMIC

By The Associated Press
Health officers in southern states took new steps yesterday to prevent spread of an infantile paralysis outbreak centered in North Carolina where 276 cases and 13 deaths have been reported. In Kentucky eight reported new cases brought the state's total to 122, with four deaths.

Georgia's health officers, returning from a conference in Raleigh, N. C., ordered a 21-day quarantine at home for all Georgia children returning from North Carolina epidemic areas. They also ruled that permission to return must be granted by health departments of both states. Nine police cars have been reported in Georgia.

Physicians in South Carolina, where 16 cases were reported, will confer Saturday with the state board of health on plans for protection against the disease.

Baptists, Methodists, and Presbyterians were advised against attending their summer retreats in North Carolina.

More than 100 volunteer Red Cross nurses from every southern state have gone into North Carolina to man emergency hospital centers in the Piedmont and Upper Piedmont sections where the outbreaks are heaviest.

Cases reported in other southern states are: Mississippi, 23; Virginia, 26; Louisiana, 66; Alabama, 9; Florida, 13.

ACTRESS' BRIDEGROOM CONFINED TO QUARTERS

By The Associated Press
MIAMI, Fla., July 13—Screen actress Gail Patrick's bridegroom, Navy Lieut. Arnold Dean White, of Corpus Christi, Tex., was confined to quarters by his commanding officer and a postponed honeymoon was in prospect today for the newlyweds.

Lt. Comdr. H. F. Webster, acting commandant of the naval air transport base here, said White was confined to quarters for 10 days for going to Jacksonville without leave.

Commander Webster was reluctant to give further information, but agreed that the only quarter to which a man could be confined on the station was backlogs quarters.

Miss Patrick and Lieut. White were married Tuesday in All Saints' Protestant Episcopal chapel at the Jacksonville naval air station. The bride expects to come to Miami in a few days.

Fellow officers reported their romance began when Lieut. White, soon after meeting Miss Patrick some months ago, told her, "you are the girl I'm going to marry."

"Don't be silly," she replied.

BRITAIN HAS NIGHT FREE OF ROBOTS

By The Associated Press
LONDON, July 13—Britain's first all-night night in a month's time last night amid some signs that Hitler's flying bomb attacks against London and the southern counties are tapering off.

Not a single robot plane was reported over this country after dark. For London it was the third day-free night in a row, but the bombs have been striking the city during daylight hours—at the busiest periods, when they are apt to cause the most confusion.

For a week now—since Prime Minister Churchill's report announcing 2,750 of the one-ton incendiary bombs had been launched against Britain—the attacks have grown gradually lighter.

Despite these respite, Londoners continue to bunk in shelters. Coming from varying directions, the flying bombs brought death by one and two yesterday as houses and shops were demolished.

An increasing number of the robot have been coming from an easterly direction, indicating they were being launched from points along the coast of Belgium. Some 150 miles from London. Some have been gliding slowly and silently down in recent days, in contrast to the deep plunge along the early ones took.

At least 100,000 persons, 60,000 of them children, have left London.

Night life has fallen off markedly. Twenty-one theaters have been closed, and bars no longer are crowded.

The London Daily Express said there had been many reports of "organized looting" after bomb hits. Looters face a possible death penalty.

DOUGLAS CONSIDERED CHIEF WALLACE RIVAL

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, July 13—Supporters of Henry A. Wallace named Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas today as the vice president's chief rival for second place on the 1944 Democratic ticket.

They also are keeping an eye on Senate Majority Leader Charles McNary, Speaker Sam Rayburn, Senator Truman (D-Mo.) and War Mobilization Director James H. Byrnes.

CHANGE PROPOSED IN SCHOOL SYSTEM

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., July 13—Changes in the Ohio public school system to permit appointment of a state director of public instruction who would serve for an indefinite period under a nine-member board of education were proposed yesterday.

Five school officials at the Ohio school administrators' institute suggested the changes in a panel discussion.

Under the present set-up, the governor appoints a state director of education to serve for four years and there is no state board of education. A constitutional amendment would be necessary to make the proposed changes.

Other points of the proposal were:

One member of the proposed state board of education should be appointed each year by the governor to serve for a period of nine years.

Not more than five members should be of any one political party.

The board should select a state superintendent of schools to serve for an indefinite period.

1,300 File Suit To Regain Jobs at Wright Plant

By The Associated Press
CINCINNATI, July 13—Suing for reinstatement for himself and 1,300 others, a former employee of the Wright Aeronautical Corp. here today charged "connivance" between the company and a CIO union leader to institute a closed shop and "get rid" of workers opposing such a move.

Barney Peller, the former employee, asserted in his petition that "wholesale dismissals" came on the day when 15,000 Wright workers ended a four-day walk-out begun when seven Negroes were transferred to a department staffed by whites. The 1,300, he declared, were not permitted to return to work but were dismissed without hearing.

His suit, filed in common pleas court against the company and William J. Beckman, shop committee head of the CIO union at the plant, sought a permanent injunction enjoining the company from interfering with employment.

Next of the 1,300, Peller asserted, are women having near-relatives in the armed services. Not only were they dismissed, he declared, but they were refused job releases and referred to the United States employment service office here.

Jenkins Considered for G.O.P. Leadership

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, July 13—Congressman Thomas A. Jenkins of Ironton, O., was mentioned today as a possible successor to Rep. Joseph Martin of Massachusetts, as Republican leader of the house should the G.O.P. gain control in the November elections and elevate Martin to the speakership.

All congressmen discussed in the quiet, behind-the-scenes contest are mid-westerners. In addition to Jenkins they are Reps. Charles Halleck of Indiana and Earl C. Michener of Michigan.

Each reportedly would have the solid support of Republican members from his own state.

WAR DEPT. CHANGES OVERSEAS POLICY

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, July 13—The war department has decided to discontinue transmitting to theater commanders requests for soldiers overseas to be returned to this country because of illness in the family or other emergency reason.

This action is necessary, the department announced today, because of the strain imposed on communication facilities by military messages.

Henceforth, those making such a request will be asked to give it to the American Red Cross which, after an investigation, will make a recommendation through its own channels if it believes return of the soldier is necessary.

At the same time, the army also announced discontinuance of the practice of sending overseas requests for information on condition of specific individuals.

The army said its policy is to report serious illness and subsequent changes to the next of kin as a matter of routine procedure, and in the absence of any such report it could be assumed that the individual's condition had not changed materially.

U. S. Fighter Group Commander Missing

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, July 13—Major James A. Goodson, 23-year-old commander of a P-51 Mustang squadron who is credited with the destruction of 30 German planes, is missing in action in the European theater.

The war department reported Goodson, whose home is in Toronto, Canada, failed to return from a mission over Germany June 20.

Capt. Don Gentile of Piqua, O., recently returned to the United States for a new assignment after bagging 30 German planes, was a member of Goodson's squadron.

S. army air forces, inspecting the Buffalo airport plant of Curtiss-Wright and the Niagara Falls plant of Bell Aircraft, said, during a press conference yesterday, "six months ago we went after the German plane plants and airfields. The enemy is now on the defensive—Japan too. Instead of coming in the hundreds, they come in the tens."

Production of War Equipment Lagging

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, July 13—The production of army equipment and weapons was $400,000,000 behind schedule in the second quarter of this year, Acting Secretary of War Patterson reported today.

The acting secretary told a news conference he had seen published statements that current production schedules were being met, and added "that statement is not true."

The dollar volume lag represented eight per cent of the schedule for April 1 for the second quarter, Patterson said, and "those schedules at the time were deemed to be feasible and achievable."

Among the items behind schedule he said, were "the long ton" 155 mm. field guns, medium tanks, tank destroyers, bulldozers, heavy duty trucks and field wire.

Nazis Threaten To Destroy All Europe in Terror

By The Associated Press
LONDON, July 13 — One of the gravest provocations ever to come from Nazi Germany declared tonight that "terror grips the hearts of many of our people" and that Germany's fight for life and death is on.

The broadcast, as heard by the London Evening News, warned: "Before the sun can reach the heart of our beloved country, we will turn this continent into a wasteland of destruction where only one cry is heard—the cry for blood."

The utterances from the enemy's military radio said further:

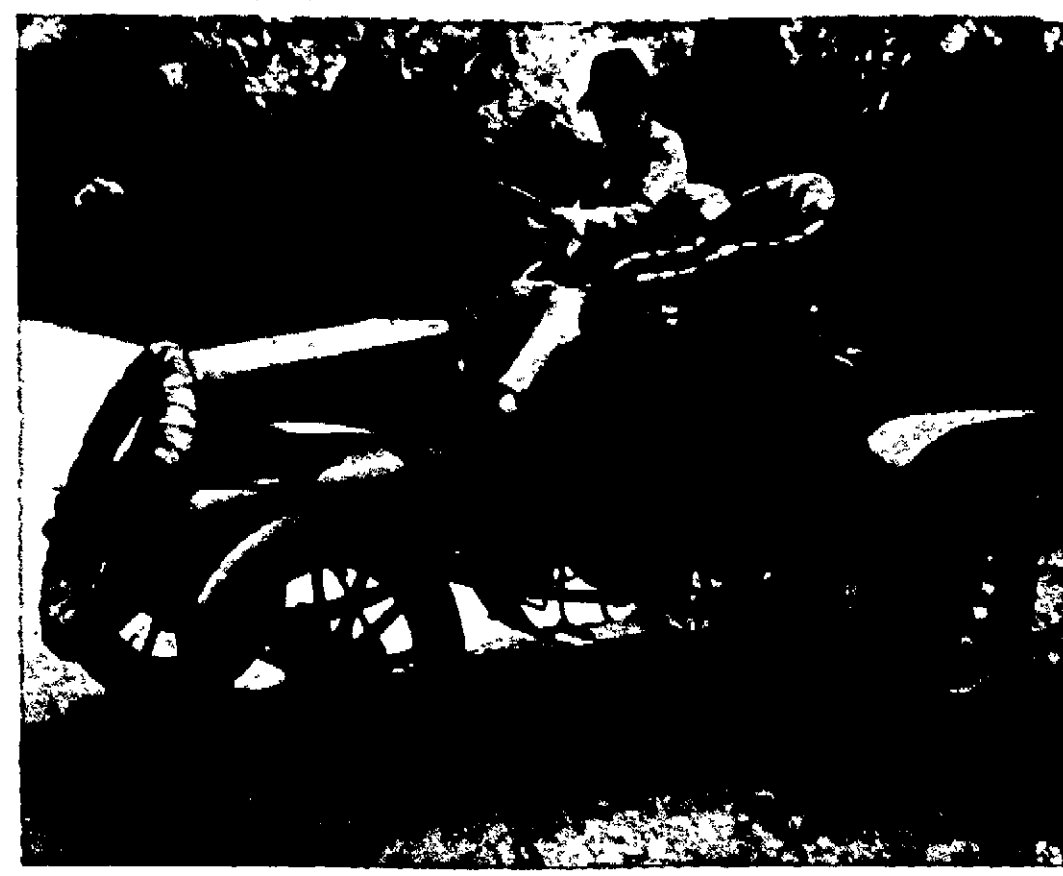

All now is at stake. The Russian flood is surging against our eastern frontier and threatens to spill over our holy German land. No wonder, terror grips the hearts of many of our people. We soldiers know this terror for we have experienced it a thousand nights. But we are determined to keep it from our loved ones at home.

"This hour we must now become a really total war. Every one capable of drawing breath for looting or using a weapon must now be in it. We must have the very last man."

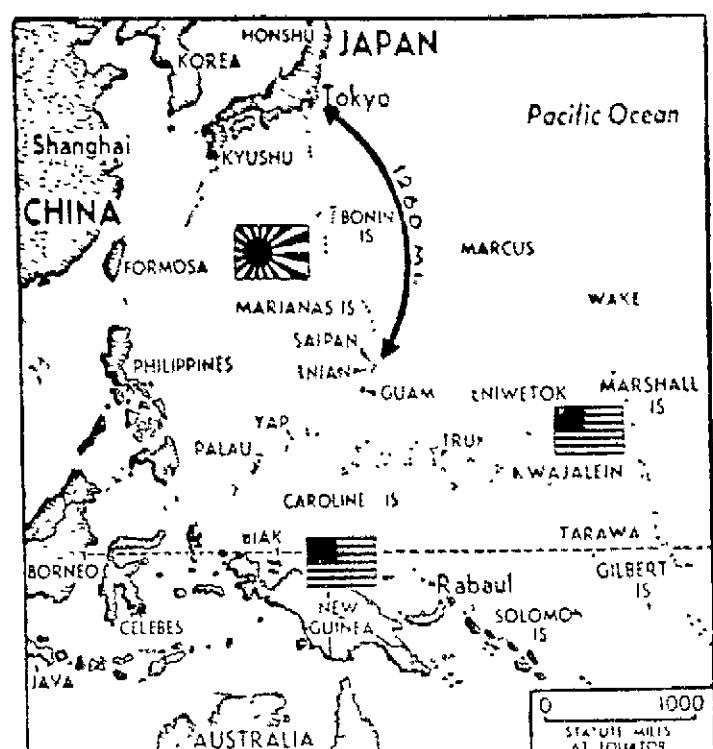

Then came the threat to destroy Europe, and the broadcast concluded:

We will stand and hold fast all our hour strikes. Let our enemies not think that now that they stand before the frontiers the task will be easier for them.

U. S. Casualties Now Near Mark of World War I

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, July 13 — Announced American battle casualties in the present war are now approaching the total casualties caused in the first World War. Unreported losses in the last three weeks of heavy fighting in France possibly have lifted the total past the 1917-1918 mark.

A total of 187,000 army casualties announced today by the War Department, including 235,411 the total of all of the group in the last 100 days of the first World War's overall losses was 273,820.

Today's announcement, however, counted only the first 100 days of the present war. The War Department said that the total of all of the group in the last 100 days of the present war's overall losses was 273,820.

The overall Army-Navy total was to increase of $145 over a previous estimate of $140 million, through June 13. Army-Navy total of the first 100 days of the present war's overall losses was 273,820.

The Army-Navy casualties announced today to be a home on the Rhine today include 34,240 killed, 77,419 wounded.

IMPORTANT TURKISH DEVELOPMENT NEAR

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, July 13 — Laurence Steinhardt, American ambassador to Turkey, said today that we could expect "much closer cooperation" from Turkey soon.

Steinhardt, who left Ankara a week ago, saw President Roosevelt this morning and said he discussed the general situation with him.

Reports from Ankara in the last two days indicated intense diplomatic activity there to develop some spectacular developments.

Steinhardt said he had returned to report on Anglo-American-Turkish conversations with the Turks which began a few weeks ago and still are going on.

Turkey has been neutral through the war but recently has taken two moves of extreme importance to the allies.

The first was a complete stoppage of chrome shipments to Germany. The second was a ban on the passage of German ships through the Dardanelles with the result that a large number of Nazi vessels are bottled up in the Black sea and unable to prove on allied shipping in the Mediterranean.

Steinhardt said he expected to remain here a few weeks and then would return to Ankara. He already has seen Secretary of State Hull.

Missouri Farmers Rescued "Old Drive"

By The Associated Press
LESTERVILLE, Mo., July 13 — "Old Drive," a 10-year-old dog devoured by his owner, Jake Light, as "the best even found in Reynolds county," was freed last night from an Oriskany mountain cave in which he was imprisoned for 10 days.

Rescuers chipped through the last foot of a 20-foot limestone bluff and pulled "Old Drive" out of the hole as he whined gratefully. His sides were gaunt and his legs and feet swollen.

The dog slipped into a crevice during a jaccoon hunt July 2 and dropped into the underground cavity.

"We've neglected our corn crop maybe but Old Drive was worth it," said Light, with tears in his eyes.

The mule ranks first in the affection of the North Carolina farmers, outnumbering the horse nearly five to one.

Salt and other minerals continually are washed into the sea at an estimated rate of three billion tons a year.

Book Fans Are Wierd People

So It Seems on Information About First Edition Collectors.

HOW TO RECOGNIZE A FIRST EDITION . . . Alfred Goldsmith explains fine points to Reporter Vivian Brown.

By VIVIAN BROWN

Associated Press Features Writer

NEW YORK—A book shop proprietor must have a heart of gold, a good sense of humor and a penchant for weird people.

More so if he is a rare book expert like Alfred Francis Goldsmith, who can spot a valuable volume a block away.

To see what is this rare book business—now that so many old books have been bombed out abroad—I puttered around for a day at Mr. Goldsmith's shop, "The Sign of the Sparrow," tagging at his heels and pecking into every nook and cranny.

Authors like Galsworthy, Dreiser, LeGallienne, Saltus and Carl Van Vechten have all been visitors to this quaint little shop of sagging dusty book shelves, cobwebs and some 37 wooden or metal sparrow-shaped decorative items. All of this is as much a part of the atmosphere as the proprietor, his cigar, the huge pot-bellied iron receptacle for ashes and his sense of humor—and has been for over two decades.

Getting Serious

"People today," says Mr. Goldsmith, who has been mentioned in over 40 books himself, "are returning to more solid reading—they are tired of modern authors who are sophisticated and don't leave character impressions—they want good old English 18th century and early American authors like Whittier, Emerson and Poe."

Because this is the rare book season—May to September—normally business should be good. But he is finding it increasingly difficult to fill the demand for old rare editions. People who have them aren't selling and a goodly supply has been cut off in Europe.

Through the telephone rings constantly, mail orders wait to be filled and book scouts pop in intermittently with requests, the total sales today amounted to 30 cents from the carriage trade. Yet a month ago he sold a Whitman's "Leaves of Grass" for $1,000. He has been an authority on Whitman since his college days at the University of Pennsylvania, and is the co-author of an extensive work on Whitman's first editions.

You might suspect from Mr. Goldsmith's caricature doodling that his innermost desire was to be a cartoonist. He will confirm that but he says he shelved the cartoonist idea in favor of Whitman, Lewis Carroll—another favorite—and "being broke from morning to night in this business."

Variety of Moods

He wouldn't trade it "for the world" though he says, "Most of my customers don't even make sense. . . take for instance a man we call Mr. GILSON. He collects nothing but books on death. . . or one who collects anything on Jenny Lind. . . another who only wants sad, sentimental songs.

Despite his murmurings to the contrary, Mr. Goldsmith loves the assortment of people who make up his clientele.

To a telephone customer he admonished "you're crazy. . . don't buy that. . . once it says 10,000 copies it's not worth anything."

"They've got him cornered in one of those bookshops where a heavy book sells for 50 cents and a light one for 25 cents," he tips, banging down the receiver.

It's difficult, he says, for the average person to recognize an old book. Once he advertised for one, receiving 57 replies, but not one of the books was worth "five cents." Often he will buy one he doesn't want "because the fellow needs the money."

On the steps leading into the shop a young man had been sitting for hours reading one of the 10-cent "picks" that are stacked outside like a barber pole.

"I don't like this book after all. . . so I don't think I'll buy it," he said.

Self Explanatory

"You see what I mean," said Mr. Goldsmith, scratching his thinning hair. "the book business attracts the weirdest people."

A book thief sings a swan song when he happens into Mr. Goldsmith's shop.

The rare books displayed on the open shelves are marked "rare editions" but the thief inevitably will pick up the classy looking hand-tooled volumes set up as a decoy in glass-enclosed shelves.

Six of these were picked up recently and sold for $125. One hour later Mr. Goldsmith got them back through a friend.

An argument ensues about a rare book on perfume. "You've got this marked $3.50 and it is plainly marked 1 shilling, 6 pence or 37 cents," says a customer.

"Did you ever hear of Poe's 'Tamerlane'?" asks Mr. Goldsmith. "It was marked 12 cents and I sold a copy for $8,000."

"You're crazy," says the man busting out of the shop.

"You see what I mean. . .," is Mr. Goldsmith's parting to me.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers follow a long, backache, only to discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 10 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits acid wastes to remain in your blood, it may cause "backache," rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness. Frequent or watery passages with stinging and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 million of kidney cases flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Fish Aids in Summer Cooking Ashley Fair Set

To Open July 19

COOLING HOT WEATHER DISH: Cold salmon and fish.

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
Associated Press Food Editor

There is a good reason why you should use fish in your summer cooking. It is the only food that is both light and healthy. It is also the only food that is both delicious and easy to cook. Fish is a perfect food for the summer months. It is light, healthy, and delicious. It is also easy to cook. You can broil it, bake it, or poach it. It is a perfect food for the summer months. It is light, healthy, and delicious. It is also easy to cook. You can broil it, bake it, or poach it.

Poached Striped Bass
(Illustrated)
Two 3-pound striped bass, 1 carrot, finely sliced, 1 onion, thinly sliced, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 bay leaf, 1 teaspoon freshly ground pepper, 3 or 4 celery leaves, minced, 1 teaspoon minced parsley, 1/3 cup white vinegar, 1/2 quart boiling water.

Clean and prepare fish. Into a fish pan (a shallow roasting pan will do) put carrot, onion, seasoning, vinegar and boiling water. Bring to boil. Put fish into water. Simmer gently 15 minutes, then remove from heat and allow fish to poach an additional 10 minutes. Remove fish from liquid. Drain. Arrange on platter with garnish of lemon and watercress. Serve with mustard mayonnaise. NOTE: Save liquid, strained, to be used as the base for soup.

Mustard Mayonnaise
One egg yolk, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, 1/4 teaspoon sugar, 1/4 teaspoon paprika, dash cayenne, 2 tablespoons lemon juice or wine vinegar, 1 cup salad oil, 1/2 cup finely chopped capers.

Beat egg yolk with rotary beater until it is thick and lemon colored. Mix the seasonings and add to egg yolk, beating well. Begin to add oil, about a half teaspoonful at a time, beating steadily as you add, until 1/2 cup is used. Then one to two tablespoons can be added at a time, beating as you add. As the mixture thickens, the remaining lemon juice or vinegar may be added. Add oil sufficient to make rich, thick dressing. Add chopped capers.

U. S. Must Lead in World Culture, Says Vassar Dean

By ADELAIDE KERR
Associated Press Features Writer
Dean Mildred Thompson of Vassar, only woman delegate to the recent London conference, has returned with a strong conviction of interest in every American. She believes that America has the opportunity and obligation to become a cultural leader in the post-war world.

Dean Thompson was the only fully accredited woman member of the conference which drafted the constitution for a United Nations organization for the rehabilitation of educational and cultural resources.

"The organization will meet in 1945 to meet the needs of rebuilding the world," Dean Thompson said, "and I hope for the long-run need of continuing understanding."

the members of the British commonwealth and by observers from China and Russia.

"This is really one of the functions of peace," the American woman delegate concluded. "The State department sent a delegation for the definite purpose of making it part of the peace plans."

"If we don't help these countries liberate their education, we shall have another generation of education of an occupied country said that the thing that disturbed him was that the children in his country were getting under the Nazis. There is a lot of singing and marching in it and the children enjoy that. The only way we can get rid of that is to bring teachers to England and the United States and let them see democratic education at work."

More Teacher Training

"In the world of the future, the organization looks toward the training and interchange of teachers on a rough larger scale. I look on this as a step toward America's becoming a cultural leader in the world."

"In the last century people felt they had to go to Europe for specialized study. We are now prepared to offer the kind of training Europe used to give us. We are especially equipped to give specialized training in medicine and in all the technical and engineering fields. It will be the obligation of America to assume its place of leadership and power in the cultural world."

"Finally the organization plan arranged for the recovery and restoration of archival materials."

Dean Thompson is a tall, alert woman, whose eyes bespeak quick wit and humor. But she spoke with unusual gravity when she discussed the outline of the proposed organization for the rehabilitation of cultural and educational resources. Education is her life interest. She went to Vassar as a girl from Georgia, and has spent most of her life there as professor of history. She was made dean in 1924. She also appears on the weekly radio program, "Listen, the Women."

Ratification Required

Dean Thompson said that the draft constitution for the international educational organization required ratification by the countries concerned. She said that it provided for a financing fund and a commission made up of delegates from those countries. The conference, she stated, was attended by representatives from the United States, England, Norway, France, Belgium, Holland, Luxembourg, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia, Greece and

Garden Tips

Jarring Vitamins

By The Associated Press
Today, we have an advantage that grandma lacked — modern recipes and methods for canning. Hardly a cookbook is printed that does not contain detailed instructions for the preserving of fresh vegetables.

Suppose beans, peas, tomatoes, beets, corn and carrots require more points next winter than we can afford. If we put up the vegetables that we don't need for immediate use, we can use the points next winter for other processed foods.

So give thought to the economy and other benefits of home canning. Grow one extra crop of vegetables now, for preserving.

July is a good month for canning. Don't wait until it is too late.

Incidentally, some of the vegetable crops may be dried and put away. Corn so treated makes an excellent dish for the cold months, with sugar added when it is cooked.

It's comparatively simple, too, to grow the seasoning herbs and dry them for storage.

Sage, thyme, marjoram — this triumvirate may be grown quickly, then dried and stored for garnishing meats.

Parsley and celery leaves are more strongly flavored when dried than when used fresh. Dry them and put them up in small tins or jars. You'll find them a handy culinary convenience when your winter recipes demand fresh vegetables.

Major Loop Teams Swing Back Into Action in Games Today

By The Associated Press

With the three-day vacation over, the major league swings back into the second half of the season today as 14 clubs resume their second wind in determined efforts to overhaul the high flying Cardinals and Braves of St. Louis.

The All-Star game last Tuesday night and the interesting highlights emanating from it will be the main topic of discussion among the baseball fans.

Naturally, the national leagues are happy over their fourth victory in 12 games, but they are looking ahead to the 141 with some misgivings. For after each of the other three victories, the older circuit lost the world's championship. The New York Yankees defeated their interborough rivals the Giants in 1936; duplicated over the Chicago Cubs in '38, and won again from the Cincinnati Reds in '40.

The 7-1 score represented the widest margin between the two teams since the game's inaugural in '33. The previous most lopsided score was the 6-2 American league victory in '37. The four runs scored by the NLers was the most in any single inning in the 12 games.

MUD HENS TAKE THIRD PLACE IN AA

By The Associated Press

Earl Jones of the Toledo Mud Hens was well on his way to an American association no-hit pitching performance last night when Louisville broke his spell in the eighth inning, tied up the score in the ninth, then succumbed in the 11th by a 4-3 margin.

The first Colonel blow was Chick Genovese's homer with the bases empty and the Hens leading 3-1. Then the Blue Grass boys collected the pair of game-winning markers when Nick Polly belted another homer, his sixteenth of the season.

Gaining a 2-1 series edge, Toledo hopped over the Colonels into third place, one game behind Columbus and seven and one-half behind leading Milwaukee.

The Brewers shut out Minneapolis 6-0 in the first game of a doubleheader and were leading 7 to 5 in the nightcap when the lighting system failed and play was halted after eight innings.

St. Paul trimmed Kansas City twice, taking the opener of a double bill, 3-1, behind the steady pitching of Art Herring and the nightcap, 11-4. The scheduled Indianapolis-Columbus contest was rained out.

BUCKY WALTERS of the Reds, who pitched the first three innings of the other three victories, the older circuit lost the world's championship. The New York Yankees defeated their interborough rivals the Giants in 1936; duplicated over the Chicago Cubs in '38, and won again from the Cincinnati Reds in '40.

In using five hurlers, the American league set a new high. The previous top figure was four hurlers in '41.

The National league gained the edge in batting for the first time with an average of .252 to .251 for the American league. The senior circuit also leads in hits, 102 to 90.

Phil Cavarretta became the first player to enjoy a perfect day at the plate, while playing a full game. The Cub first baseman hit a triple, single and drew three passes, another first.

Indians To Open St. Louis Series

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, July 13—Cleveland's Indians meet the league-leading St. Louis Browns in a two-night double header this evening, opening a six-game series that may improve or ruin the Tribe's pennant chances.

Manager Lou Boudreau termed the series the most important engagement of the season for his club and said it would determine his pitching strategy for the remainder of the campaign.

The Indian skipper announced he would use Al Smith and Mel Harder as starting pitchers in the series, but if the Redskins won fewer than three of the games he would work largely with his younger hurlers for the remainder of the year.

With the Indians now seven-and-a-half games off the pace, anything less than an even break in the six games would all but eliminate them, while four triumphs would keep pennant hopes alive.

NEW RING LISTINGS ADVANCE FIGHTERS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 13—Joe Bakshi of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., and Ike Williams of Trenton, N. J., advanced to the select class among the heavyweights and lightweights, respectively, in new quarterly listings announced today by the National Boxing association.

Bakshi, who recently defeated Lee Savold, now in the maritime service, took over the top position in the "outstanding boxers" listings, ranking behind Champion Joe Louis and challengers Billy Conn and Jimmy Bivins.

Williams moved up to the "logical contender" category in the lightweight division, following champion Juan Zureta of Mexico and challengers Bob Montgomery of Philadelphia and Beau Jack of the army in the NBA listings.

President Abe J. Greene of the NBA pointed out there were few major changes in the quarterly ratings because most of the "name" fighters now are in the armed forces.

Greene said the NBA intends to stick to its policy of "freezing" the titles of champions now in military garb and has no intention of according "duration" recognition to civilian pugilists.

Among the titleholders now in the armed forces are Louis, in the Army, light heavyweight Gus Lesnevich of the Coast Guard, middleweight Tony Zale and welterweight Freddie Cochrane of the Navy and featherweight Sal Barola of the maritime service.

Boxers from outside the United States were accorded more recognition than usual. Freddie Mills of England was given the third spot among the light heavyweights, Jose Basora of Puerto Rico was listed as a middleweight contender, Marcel Cerdan of France advanced in the welterweight listings, and English boxers made a clean sweep in the flyweight class.

SNATCHES OF SPORTS

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, July 13—Overseas sports roundup:

Touchdown at Salpan
Marine Lieut. Joe Sabarskian, who played center for Furman in the 1942 Sugar Bowl game, 20-14, in his first combat experience at Salpan when he was called upon to stop a threatened Japanese counterattack after a week on the beach, supervising the unloading of supplies. "I'd rather play six 30-minute football games on one day than go through another session of snelling like the one we had," he commented. In the same vicinity were Cpl. Calvin (Preacher) Dorsett, ex-Cleveland Indian pitcher, and Pfc. Jim Bivin, who used to hurl for the Pirates and Phillies. Before the landing, they had picked their respective Marine teams to divisional championships.

Indolent India
Note from Sgt. John Derr, former Greenboro, N. C., sports editor now in India: "Guess I'm having the most fun ever out here, although this hot weather has put a damper on my golf and tennis. . . . We play after 5 p. m., usually about 14 holes. Last week I turned in my best card, an 80 on the par 74 course. And to think that back in Greenboro I never was able to break 90 and missed many times about scoring 100. I've been getting a few 80s, but I've been getting a few 90s and 100s, too. They've put control prices on new golf bags, making the tariff from about $5 to a little more than a buck. . . . The course is as good as a concrete road now, and if one can manage to keep his ball straight and low he'll run a mile."

Another Climate
From Lieut. Dave Kinkoff (on stationery of the Air and Quail Officers club—Irregularly "Ensign" Larry Howell, 440, from Ohio State, was upped to Lt. (JG)) here recently and is now cast in the States. . . . Red Cross opened two bowling alleys, built by the engineers. Major Gen. William S. Key rolled in alley 1 after dedicating the alleys. 10-0 seven pins with his first roll then watched Brig. Gen. Earl Duncan toss one, good for one pin, and another for two more. So Key refused to roll his second ball."

Back to the Pacific
From Tech. Sgt. Billy Goodrich, ex-Brooklyn Eagle sports writer: "I've discovered that once the boys can get a big enough field to play, they will drop softball and go back to the national pastime. The men like that hard ball stuff. The lads sure went for the 'Iron Major' and the more good football pictures the better."

O. S. L. All-Star Game at Newark Delayed by Rain

The all-star game of the Ohio State league which was to have been played last night at the Newark moundmen's home diamond has been postponed until tonight. Rain descending on the field last night dampened the enthusiasm of both spectators and players. No other change of schedule is necessitated by the postponement as no games have been scheduled until Friday night.

Bakshi and Boudreau of the Marion team who will battle the Newark moundmen tonight. The Marion Club had also placed another player, Minnis, on the team, but he has been recalled by the Jamestown, N. Y., club.

Games scheduled for tomorrow night in the league are Marion at Springfield, Lima at Zanesville and Middletown at Newark.

OHIO STATE LOOP EXPANSION SEEN

By The Associated Press

Dutch Seeking Art Treasures

Netherlands To Demand Return of Works Stolen by Nazi Looters.

By International News Service
LONDON—Art dealers in occupied Holland have resolved on a post-war program for the recovery of Dutch art treasures looted by the Germans, according to a Netherlands art expert who recently completed a survey of German looting.

The expert, who has been in close touch with art dealers in Holland, declared that most of them feel the problem should be tackled internationally and that internal measures should be taken immediately after liberation.

The main points of the program envisaged by Dutch art dealers include confiscation of German property; requisitioning of data from Dutch dealers, auctioneers and private citizens who have sold art works to Germany; stipulation in the peace terms that Germany must return all "confiscated," "purchased," or "purloined art treasures, the setting up of an official commission of experts to facilitate the work, and seizure of an equivalent amount of art in Germany as security against "untraceable" Dutch goods or those purposely held back.

Systematic Looting Going On

The art dealer presented a survey of the manner in which Germans carried out their looting. Since occupation of the Netherlands, he said, they have been removing culturally valuable goods of all kinds on an increasingly alarming scale.

The value of these possessions amounts to many millions of guilders. The looting includes pictures, prints, sculpture, antiques and modern and old furniture. The furniture includes "liquidated" and "confiscated" Jewish property which, the expert said, was simply stolen.

Many art objects were "bought" with overvalued marks or spurious Netherlands bank notes. Several German bureaus worked the art racket more or less independently, the Netherlands expert revealed, but Hitler's buyers, such as "the Bureau for Cultural Exchanges," enjoyed priority.

German Galleries Profit

Other German authorities obtained art works for German galleries at Linz, Bonn, Breslau, Dresden, Dusseldorf, Hamburg, Karlsruhe, Cologne and Koenigsberg. Others again looked after the art interests of Arthur Seyss-Inquart, Reich Commissioner for Occupied Holland, and Nazi party leaders, or utilized the artistic cravings of the heads of German government departments who like to fill their offices with Dutch art treasures.

An active worker on behalf of Hermann Goering is the art dealer Hofer, who founded the "Hermann Goering Art Gallery" in which Netherlands pictures predominate. Other German art dealers, particularly one Meidl, who appropriated the Goudstikker collection, served German bankers and merchants.

When art works were simply stolen, the Germans called it "confiscation" and considered it justified because the owners were Germany's enemies, Jewish subjects of enemy countries residing in Holland and those whose outlook was anti-German came under this category. Dutchmen caught listening to radio broadcasts or hiding Jews also were punished with confiscation of their art treasures.

Goods belonging to the royal house, mainly furniture, were "confiscated" on this same ground of "anti-German attitude."

Some Netherlands galleries, foundations, and societies also suffered "confiscations" or "purchases." The libraries of the Spinoza House, the Netherlands Economic Historic Institute of Freemasons and the Valkenburg Monastery were carried off to Germany without ado.

place and the mouth moves to the under side of the head, becoming more like the mouth of a carp or sucker, and thereafter they feed on vegetation. The transformation also robs them of their ability to prey on the walleyes and the young pickerel in turn forage on them. Due to their vegetable appetite, few whitefish are ever taken on hook and line, the great majority of them being taken in deeper water by commercial net fishermen.

CONSERVATION HISTORY

History records that in 1873 Ohio took its first real notice of the need for wildlife conservation and restoration by creating a Fishing Commission. This took place during the administration of Governor Edward F. Noyes.

The Legislature changed the name of the commission to fish and game commission in 1886. An appropriation of $3,500 per year for fish and game protection and propagation was made in that year.

In 1890 the first Cleveland was named to the Commission by Governor James E. Campbell. He was William D. Huntington. Other members were James A. Henshall, Cincinnati, who was a national authority on black bass, Emory D. Potter, Toledo, who had served at state hatchery superintendent, Cyrus Osborn, Dayton and Joseph H. Newton, Newark.

The first hunting license law was enacted in 1913. The rod and reel license law became effective in 1925. Then everyone who fished with a rod and reel paid $1 and all others fished free and more recently the angler's license law was established whereby all persons 18 years of age or more pay 50 cents.

DIDYAKNOW DEPARTMENT

Add to the did-you-know department: Folks seldom think of looking in a tree for ducks but Goldeneye ducks nest in trees... there are 24,000 acres of marginal land around the lakes in the Muskingum Conservancy Watershed... there are 107,623 acres of state forest land in Ohio.

In 1871, Canada's rural inhabitants outnumbered the urban dwellers by more than two million.
